Flying Aletha Owns Debut Race, Ascot Up Next

CJ Thoroughbreds has found themselves back in the winner’s circle yet again! This time it was with their two-year-old filly Flying Aletha, who was making her career debut at Gulfstream Park on May 21st. Trainer Wesley Ward sure had her geared up and ready to go, as she led the whole way and cruised home to a 5 ½ length victory under Edgar Prado. The bay daughter of Tiznow made such a statement that her connections have decided to give her a shot at racing across the pond at Royal Ascot in her next start later this month. Best of luck!

Make that Back to Back Stakes Wins for AR-bred Man in the Can

Man in the Can is back at it again! After winning his stakes debut in the Rainbow Stakes at Oaklawn in April, the three-year-old son of Can the Man jumped right back into more stakes action in the $165,000 Arkansas Breeders' Championship Stakes on May 1st. Off at odds of 5/1, Man in the Can covered the mile-and-a-sixteenth distance in 1:43.25, finishing a neck in front of his rival to earn $99,000 for his breeder and owner, JRita Young Thoroughbreds. A job well done by trainer Ron Moquett and jockey Joel Rosario. That makes three wins in four career starts with his lifetime earnings now exceeding $178,000!

Congratulations to Barbara Ratcliff's Coal Creek Farm, who celebrated a very exciting win on May 29th at Santa Anita with homebred I'm Leaving You! This was his third career start and his first since early March. The long layoff certainly did not seem to slow him down! I'm Leaving You broke cleanly and immediately advanced to the front to take the lead where he stayed throughout the remainder of the race, crossing the wire first in a very impressive final time of 1:35.68 for the mile contest on the lawn. The three-year-old Broken Vow gelding is out of longtime resident One For You, dam of stakes winner Dedicated to You (by Purim) and several other winners. In fact, I'm Leaving You is her eighth foal to make it to the track and her eighth winner! A fantastic job by trainer Vann Belvoir and two-time Triple Crown winning jockey Victor Espinoza. We hope this win is the first of many in this young horse's career and we look forward to seeing him proceed!

I'm Leaving You Much the Best in Maiden Victory
