SEPTEMBER 2016

Keeneland September yearling preview: colt edition

Is it September already?!? With the beginning of the Keeneland yearling sale just days away now, we are putting the finishing touches on the sales prep colts and fillies and getting them ready to ship in to the sale grounds. This great group of young horses just continue to get better by the day. It's an exciting time as we quickly approach the moment when we finally get to see them go through the sale ring after spending countless hours getting them prepared for that occasion. For our friends and clients that will be visiting during the sales, we look forward to seeing you all, and for those of you that have yearlings in the sale we wish you the best of luck!

Another stakes win for My Heart Goes On

My Heart Goes On... and on... and on!!! Add another stakes win to this young filly's already impressive resume! The 3-year-old chestnut filly won the Washington Cup Three Year Old Filly Stakes at Emerald Downs this past Sunday in impressive fashion. My Heart Goes On broke first and led gate to wire to take down the mile dirt race in a final time of 1:35.99. This victory marks the second stakes win for her after winning the Angie C. Stakes in her second career start last summer. A great time for a catalog page update too! Her half-brother by Alternation is featured to the left as one of the colts we are prepping for the September sale. We are so thrilled for Barbara Ratcliff's Coal Creek Farm who bred and owns this impressive filly. Congrats on a job well done!

Blame – English Willow

Langfuhr – Sky Fraulein

Power Broker – Spanish Cat

Alternation – My Untamed Heart

Employee Spotlight

Jim Lancaster
Maintenance Manager

Jim Lancaster was born in Scott County, KY, and was raised in the small community of Oxford, right outside of Georgetown. He grew up farming a little bit of everything on his family farm, but most of their work was concentrated in raising tobacco.

Jim got his first job working with horses at age 13, and has mostly worked with horses in some capacity ever since. In 1999 he started working hay for the Green family. It was during this time that Jim met Terry while helping to supply hay and bedding for Wafare Farm. He started working for the farm in 2002 and has been here ever since.

Although Jim's main focus is maintenance, he's a horseman as well and assists with horse care on the farm. Whenever you drive through the farm and think about how perfectly mowed and how beautifully striped the fields are, that's thanks to Jim's work. Than ks for helping keep the place looking so nice!

Jim lives on the farm with his wife, Carolyn. In his free time he enjoys fishing, gardening, spending time with his 5 grandchildren, and cheering on his beloved Kentucky Wildcats (and sometimes not-so-beloved Cincinnati Reds!).

Endeavor Farm foaled and raised Unbridled Looks (Birdstone – Ladysgotthelooks, by Seattle Sleet) continued her winning ways on August 12th, hitting the wire first in an allowance race at Arapahoe Park. The 3-year-old bay filly finished the 5 ½ furlong race in a final time of 1:05.25, adding $7,500 to her total career earnings of $23,260. Unbridled Looks is now 3 for 4 in her young career after breaking her maiden in her debut last summer and going 2 for 3 in allowance races this year, her only loss being a 2nd place finish in July. The photo above is from early summer 2013 when Unbridled Looks was but a wee little baby by her mother's side. It's always fun for us to see a horse come off the farm and run well then be able to think back years ago when they were still fresh and new to the world. A huge congratulations to her owner and breeder, Annette Bishop, as well as trainer Kenneth Gleason and jockey Karlo Lopez. We look forward to watching the rest of this filly's 3-year-old campaign unfold. Hopefully Unbridled Looks' winning ways will continue and we'll see her back here again someday in the same place where it all started.

Unbridled Looks wins yet again
