Make It Back-to-Back Victories for Huck's Agenda

Huck's Agenda seems to really be finding her stride as she once again put it all together to come out on top in a competitive race at Fair Grounds on February 27th. The Kenny McPeck trained filly bided her time patiently at the back of the pack as her foes duked it out in front. Coming around the final turn, jockey Brian Hernandez Jr. put his mount into gear and came flying past the field, shaking off a pesky challenger in late stretch to cruise to the wire for a ¾-length margin of victory. Huck's Agenda was foaled, raised, and consigned by Endeavor Farm for her breeder, Ashley Hiller.

Drewtonian Takes Another Trip to the Winner's Circle

Congratulations to the connections of Drewtonian (Lexitonian - Breach of Duty, by Broken Vow), who maintained an unblemished two-for-two lifetime record with an allowance win at Sam Houston on February 6th. The race was never in doubt for the three-year-old colt as he grabbed an early lead and steadily drew away from his competitors, increasing his lead at each call before drawing off for a greater than four length margin of victory. Drewtonian was bred in Oklahoma by Tim Harris' Circle Bar H, LLC. This colt is off to a very promising start due to a great job by the team of conditioner Jayde Gelner and jockey Rene Diaz.

Fly Commander Breaks Maiden at Tampa Bay

We are very proud to announce that star broodmare One for You (by Dayjur) has produced yet another winner by way of her next-to-last foal, Fly Commander (by Higher Power), who broke his maiden in impressive fashion at Tampa Bay Downs on February 13th. This victory marks the 11th winner from 11 foals to race out of One for You, who is currently living her best life in retirement at Endeavor Farm. Those 11 winners include two black type winners and three other stakes-placed horses. That's a broodmare resume that is as good as it gets! One For You's penultimate foal, Looking for You (by Modernist), will make his first career start on March 2nd.

Queen in the Deck Picks Up Her First Win of the Year

Endeavor Farm-bred Queen in the Deck (Cairo Prince - Clara Barton, by Union Rags) has taken a liking to her new digs at Mahoning Valley Race Course. The Youngstown, OH track was the site of a promising second place effort on February 2nd, followed by her first allowance win on February 23rd. The gray/roan four-year-old filly is now a three-time winner with a bank roll that exceeds the $100,000 mark. It's a beautiful thing to see Queen in the Deck thriving under new ownership as she seems to be improving with every race. Look for her to continue her promising campaign when she makes her next start in second-level allowance company on March 9th at Mahoning Valley. Major props to the connections, including owner JKX Racing, trainer Justin Radosevich, and jockey Jose Bracho.
